Ray Pleads Not Guilty To Rape As Trial Opens

William R. Ray pleaded innocent when arraigned on a rape indictment in district court Monday morning.

Selection of a jury to try the Vernon former soldier in connection with an attack on a nine-year-old girl in a Fort Worth park, last April 8 begins before A. F. Mays, district judge, Tuesday at 10 a. m.

The case was sent here on a change of venue May 26, from criminal district court in Fort Worth after it was apparent that a jury could not be secured in that section.

Ray was indicted May 6, this year.

Short Session

One of the features of the morning session was the brevity of preliminaries.

After Judge Mays had empaneled and charged the grand jury for the July term following the formal opening of the court by Jack McGarity, court bailiff, two appearance cases (civil) were called and then court called the transferred case.

Both Al Clyde, Tarrant county district attorney, and H. S. Beard, Waco, defense attorney, announced ready without calling a list of prospective witnesses to determine whether they were available, and neither made any oral statements, requests or motions, or filed any papers. This is believed to be the first time in local criminal history that neither side asked a question or made a motion.

Read Indictment

District Attorney Clyde arraigned the defendant by reading the indictment as returned by the Tarrant County grand jury.

A special venire of 150 prospective jurors in addition to the regular panel of 36 jurors for the week has been summoned for Tuesday morning.

The state attorneys have stated the death penalty will be sought. Charles T. Banister county attorney, Saton T. Holsey, assistant attorney, will assist District Attorney Clyde and J. Elwood Winters, assistant Tarrant county district attorney.

Vickie, two-year-old daughter of the defendant, sat in his lap prior to his arraignment.

Mrs. Thelma Britton, the personal secretary of the Tarrant county district attorney, is here and has a desk in the county attorney's office here in addition to the local personnel.

Fort Worth Reporters Here

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram is represented by two reporters, one photographer and a teletype operator. The reporters are Phil North and Max Williams, and Wilburn Davis is the photographer. The teletype operator is Miss Johnny Armstrong whose headquarters and sending machine are in the commissioners' courtroom on the same floor as the Thirteenth Judicial District courtroom where the trial will get under way Tuesday.

The Fort Worth Press is represented by Frank G. Evans, reporter, and a photographer. The defendant was escorted into the courtroom from the jail by Deputy Sheriff R. E. Jones who had heard that the American and British James, the two western allies sent nearly 400 planes into the city yesterday from western Germany and were planning to keep up the pace.

Gen. Joseph Smith, commanding the American Air Service, was extremely pleased with the air force of the two western allies.

Meanwhile, there were hints that the Russians planned a new protest over alleged violations of flying rules in the corridor being used by the American and British James.

Both officials have made approximately 30 similar protests in the last months.

Agents of a new Soviet protest were dispatched by the Russian news agency. The American and British James, the two western allies sent nearly 400 planes into the city yesterday from western Germany and were planning to keep up the pace.

Reds Slay Priests.

VATICAN CITY, July 5.—(UPI)—Information received here from Peking reported the slaying by Communists of six papal priests of Yangkaijing, a Vatican source said today.

Bank Deposit Record.

MIDLAND, July 5.—(UPI)—An all-time high of $29,893,651 in deposits was reported by Midland banks. This is an increase of $7,491,588 during the past 12 months.

NATION CELEBRATES HOT, HUMID JULY 4; DEATH TOLL HEAVY

COUNTRIES OVERSEAS TAKE STAND FOR AND AGAINST U. S. SYSTEM

By The Associated Press

Millions of Americans celebrated their independence today by seeking the sun, the sea and the countryside.

Hot, humid weather prevailed over most of the nation on the last day of a long Fourth of July week-end. Many communities held traditional Independence Day ceremonies on Sunday.

President Truman journeyed to Bolivar, Mo., today to accept a $100,000 statue of Simon Bolivar, the South American liberator, from President Rómulo Gallegos of Venezuela who flew to the United States for the occasion.

Death Toll High.

Even before the peak of home-bound travel began, the weekend death toll had mounted to 355. Traffic fatalities had climbed to 206 only 28 less than the 235 total predicted by the National Safety Council for the three-day period ending tonight.

Americans overseas also celebrated the 172nd anniversary of the nation's independence. U. S. ground troops in Germany were given today off, but airmen went right on with the big job of flying food into Soviet-blockaded Berlin.

Europeans in some countries yesterday voiced their views on what American Independence has come to.

Clue Offered.

The Yugoslav Communist organ Borba offered a clue as to which way Yugoslavia leans. It said:

"As far as our stand toward the Imperialists, our friends and enemies know that the policy of Yugoslavia as a part of the forces of world democracy against the Imperialist camp will not change one bit."

Translating the usual Communist cliches, that statement would appear to indicate that Tito's regime does not intend to try to reach an understanding with the Western powers.

Yugoslav information department announced distribution in London by Tanjug quoted the Yugoslav government as terming "fabrication and slander" a report that Tito will seek benefits from the United States-financed European Recovery Program.

Violent Deaths In Texas On Holiday Weekend Total 33

By The Associated Press

Violent deaths in Texas over the July Fourth weekend mounted to 33 today.

Traffic accidents on busy highways accounted for 18 of the deaths. The traffic toll may have been higher had it not been for unfavorable weather for traveling.

The other deaths were caused by strangulation and beating, drowning, shootings, a poisoning and an accidental electrocution.

U. S. Army recruiting Sergeant Oscar Garza, about 30, of Corpus Christi, was found fatally beaten and strangled Sunday in the center of a Matamoras, Mex., street.

He was taken to a hospital at Brownsville, Texas, across the Rio Grande from Matamoras, but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Track Star Drowns.

William Donald (Don) Nugent, 39, former Texas Christian University track star, was reportedly drowned Sunday in Eagle Mountain Lake near Fort Worth. Miss Joyce Fries, 32, Fort Worth, said Nugent decided to go for a swim while they were boating.

Douglas Batey, 29, of Johnson City, Tenn., was killed Sunday in a car-truck collision near Gordon in Palo Pinto county. Five others were injured.

Gen. Andres Zubleta, commander of the 28th Battalion stationed here, said the plane "has been definitely located at Cuevas Negras (Black Caves) at the snowline of the volcano."

Troops Plan Rescue.

Gen. Zubleta said troops under the command of Gen. Rodolfo Lopez were guarding the plane and awaiting rescue troops.

The rescue party of picked men will make three camps. The first at La Perla, about 40 miles northwest of here, the second probably at La Cienega and the third at the scene of the crash.

The first 40 miles will be made in army and commission jeeps, the second 40 miles to La Cienega will be by horseback and the rest of the distance by foot. The plane is at about 12,000 feet.

Gen. Zubleta said it would take from three to six days to bring the bodies out.

The battalion commander said the information brought here indicated the plane exploded and burned when it crashed into the mountain side.

Train Fired On; Two Men Are Held

Two men were taken into custody early Monday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff R. E. Jones in connection with the alleged firing into a northbound Burlington-Rock Island Lines passenger train near Cheyneyboro about 11:30 a. m.

No formal charges had been filed in the matter early in the afternoon. The two men were picked up on a description of two men and of a car given by members of the train crew. The deputy sheriff found a shotgun in the car.

No one was injured in the train. E. B. Bradshaw, special Burlington-Rock Island Lines agent, was due in Corsicana immediately. Sam B. Weaver, local agent, stated shortly after noon. Report of the incident was made to the division headquarters at Teague at noon. The train continued on its schedule.

Attend Houston Meeting.

Among local attorneys who attended the sessions of the Texas Bar in Houston during the past week-end were J. C. Roe, Abner McCall, C. L. Milburn and David Ralston.

Yugoslavia Reds Apparently Seek Tito Showdown

LONDON, July 5.—(UPI)—Yugoslav Communists appeared today to have set the stage for an Eastern European showdown on the policies of Premier Marshal Tito, who now is in disfavor with Moscow.

Tanjug, the official Yugoslav news agency, said all Communist parties have been invited to attend the fifth congress of Yugoslavia's Communist party in Belgrade July 21.

The agency's announcement came only a few hours after a Bulgarian newspaper bluntly called upon the Yugoslavs to say whether they plan to remain in Eastern Europe's Communist camp or seek a partnership with the Western powers.

Firm Stand Demanded.

The Sofia newspaper Osteoveni Front, one of the voices of Bulgaria's Communists, said: "Yugoslavia cannot remain an isolated island between the two camps. Where will the Yugoslav Communist party place Yugoslavia?"

It was the Soviet-dominated Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) which turned the heat on Tito by accusing him and his lieutenants of straying away from Marxism and switching to a nationalist, anti-Russian policy. The Yugoslav Communist party's central committee has denied the accusations and denounced them as "lies" and "slander."

Clue Offered.

The Yugoslav Communist organ Borba offered a clue as to which way Yugoslavia leans. It said:

"As far as our stand toward the Imperialists, our friends and enemies know that the policy of Yugoslavia as a part of the forces of world democracy against the Imperialist camp will not change one bit."

Translating the usual Communist cliches, that statement would appear to indicate that Tito's regime does not intend to try to reach an understanding with the Western powers.

Yugoslav information department announced distribution in London by Tanjug quoted the Yugoslav government as terming "fabrication and slander" a report that Tito will seek benefits from the United States-financed European Recovery Program.

Mexicans Seeking Crashed Plane Of Cattle Commission

By The Associated Press

ORIZABA, Mex., July 5.—(UPI)—Strong-hearted men began the long climb up the 18,225-foot Orizaba volcano at dawn today to bring out 15 victims of a plane crash.

The plane, operated by the United States-Mexico foot and mouth disease commission, crashed on the side of the peak Friday while flying from Minatitlan to Mexico City. The plane made its last report 45 minutes out of the capital with 15 passengers aboard, 8 of them Americans.

President Truman—the man the Eisenhower supporters would replace as a party candidate—was silent.

But as he headed for a Missouri speaking engagement, a top aide said the president was "absolutely convinced" nothing would come of moves to keep him from getting the nomination.

Truman Said Confident

Although Mr. Truman was quoted as feeling that much of the Eisenhower boom could be traced to Democrats who really were backing Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, the general supporters could point to some concrete results of their drive.

Without a word of support from the retired army chief of staff, the number of delegates instructed to cast ballots for him climbed swiftly above the 100 mark, while additional Eisenhower voices were raised on all sides.

First Ballot Awarded.

There was no doubt that the single leader they had in mind to replace Truman is Eisenhower. Avery said Eisenhower could grab the nomination on the first convention ballot—a claim also made for Mr. Truman by his supporters.

New President of Columbia University, the 57-year-old general's political leanings are so little known that month ago he was the object of a Republican draft movement.

Eisenhower stopped that cold by a January 23 statement that he was "not available for and could not accept nomination to high political office."

Another Eisenhower man at both the convention and the Philadelphia, Pa., caucus will be Florida's Senator Claude Pepper, who announced Saturday that he will attend as an alternate and work for the general's nomination.

Statement Possible.

A Columbia University spokesman said yesterday that the general was "spending a weekend away from the office" and probably would have nothing to say about the boom before tomorrow, when he addresses the university's summer students—if he says anything about it even then.

Mr. Truman himself was on a speaking trip to Bolivar, Mo., where he was to help dedicate a statue of the South American hero, Simon Bolivar. He had nothing to say about the draft-Eisenhower boom.

Ike Still Silent.

The continued silence of the general, plus the increasing number of his supporters, built up a head of steam which may explode the unparalleled draft movement into action at Philadelphia Saturday.

At that time, 18 men will assemble, representing 17 states which cast 563 of the 1,234 presidential nomination votes in the party convention opening there two days later. By telegram, they invited others to attend "to seek for the leader of our party the ablest and strongest man available."

They included such party leaders as Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York, Democratic leader Jacob Arvey of Chicago, James Roosevelt, California state chairman, Senator Hill of Alabama, and Governors Tuck of Virginia, Jester of Texas and Thurmond of South Carolina.

First Ballot Awarded.

There was no doubt that the single leader they had in mind to replace Truman is Eisenhower. Avery said Eisenhower could grab the nomination on the first convention ballot—a claim also made for Mr. Truman by his supporters.

D. Eisenhower took 58 votes from the president.

With 18 votes added to the total, Mr. Truman had 66.

But the pledge of California's 54 votes to the California State delegation in Philadelphia, Pa., was unfulfilled.

With 18 votes added to the total, Mr. Truman had 66.

JULY THE FIFTH
There they are, with fingers whole
not a bandaged arm of eye!
Grandpa a contented soul;
Glorious Fourth passed safely by.
Is different when a boy was he.
His grandpa lived the Fourth in dread, most much too careless I should be
and spend July the fifth in bed.

my day little girls and boys
Went early to the roadway's curb
With dynamite's explosive noise
The sleeping neighbors to disturb.
We celebrated with vim
In freedom's name our blood we shed
Risked life and sight and hair and limb
And spend July the fifth in bed.

I'm sure it is a better world,
Or should a safer world I say?
The flag our fathers first unfurled
Still helter's childhood's right to play;
But doting grandpas, such as I,
Beyond the Fourth can look ahead,
Assured that when the day goes by
The fifth won't find their pals in bed.

wherever trade is carried on between the two.

The political and economic systems of the two sections of Germany differ widely, as though the two zones were two sovereign nations. In the western area a democratic form of government and economy is becoming evolved. The eastern area is being developed along Soviet lines. How will these differences affect the two currencies? If one currency becomes more acceptable than the other, how then will trade between the two sections fare?

Economists of a future day may learn much from what about to take place in Germany.

VACATION HASTE

America's vacation time has come. For most people it will be short. But it can't be extended by rushing through it.

Those who are going to go by car to their playspots will be surer of getting there in one piece if they do not drive like mad. Even with good luck attending, the autoist who burns up the road arrives only a little ahead of the others. And the more leisurely traveler has more opportunity to observe sights on the way, finds himself less tense and tired at the journey's end.

It's the time of year to say once more: Not so fast! Drive slowly and see the outdoor sights; drive fast and see the inside of the hospital.

DISPLACED PERSONS

The measure providing for admission of displaced persons has many curious provisions. Not the least is the one making it especially easy for Sudeten Germans to enter.

The war may fairly be said to have started in Switzerland, where the German population, under Nazi instigation, intrigued against the Czechs and gave Hitler an excuse to enter and conquer the country. Their leader, Konrad Henlein, is still numbered as one of the least savory of the many blackguards who were the Nazi chiefs.

Why should these people get special privileges for entering the United States? It would be interesting to run down the influences in Congress that are responsible.

CONGRESSIONAL JAM

Probably for as long as Congress has existed it has piled up work for a last-minute jam before the end of the session. State legislatures, which operate on similar principles, usually have final accumulations. The end of the regular sessions of the 80th Congress provided no deviation from this custom.

Many legislative proposals were caught in the jam, and so died. Among these were at least three highly significant bills—the housing bill, oleomargarine tax repeal, and the Mundt-Nixon bill dealing with Communism. These bills were not discarded after thoughtful study; they were laid aside because there was no time to talk about them.

Several other measures of great importance were brought to passage in the hectic closing hours, when the senators and representatives were weary and harried and primarily interested in the two zones but in bringing the session to a

District Court

A grand jury was empaneled by Judge A. P. Mays Monday morning, as the Court was formally opened.

In his instructions to the 12 jurors, Judge Mays praised the "law-abiding" county and said he had no "special message" for them. The new grand jury is headed by Rex Bounds, foreman, of Corsicana.

J. M. Carr and J. W. McClinton were elected riding and door bailiffs respectively by the jurors after they went into session with County Attorney Charles Bannister.

J. M. Reid was elected secretary.

WEATHER

On June 24, Thursday, a week ago, the Rio Grande was up 50 feet at Del Rio and 44.5 at Eagle Pass.

Temporary lumber cribbing that had been put as a temporary railroad bridge was washed out. Repair crews for the railroad started to rebuild the bridge a second time. If this had not happened a second time rail traffic would have been resumed over the line Monday.

Three highways were reported closed down in the area because of the high waters, the Del Rio-Eagle Pass highway No. 83 at Sycamore creek crossing, highway 90 at the Sycamore creek crossing and highway 277, a detour route, at the creek crossing.

Rainfall at Eagle Pass the last three days gauged but 1.12 inches and had been beneficial to crops in that area since irrigation ditches were damaged by the earlier flood and have not yet all been repaired.

Temperature Down

The heavy rains also dropped temperature yesterday. Presidio's 102 was the only above-100 reading reported yesterday. Rock Springs had the lowest maximum reported by the weather bureau with 83. Low reading during the night was 62 at Guadalupe Pass.

The widespread precipitation was accompanied by unusually high humidity. The weather bureau said the humidity was in part to blame for the "unstable" weather.

The rainy weather was expected to continue through tomorrow, especially in East Texas. Temperatures were expected to follow the cooler pattern.

He told reporters his plan envisaged arrangements "to keep the present Trans-Jordan area independent" with only Arab Palestine in the economic union.

Arab Plans Given

The Cairo newspaper Al Misri published under a Lake Success bannerline what it said was the text of the Arab note rejecting Barnard's proposal. The note, the newspaper said, listed these major Arab objections:

—The mediator's plan regarding immigration would give Jews more than they would receive under the original U. N. partition scheme.

—It is a false assumption to consider Trans-Jordan a part of Palestine. Such a link would confirm Zionist claims that Palestine and Trans-Jordan are one country—claims which cannot be accepted by the Arabs.

—The proposals would achieve Zionist aspirations by the partition of Palestine and the creation of a Jewish state, and in addition the Jewish state would gain advantages from economic unity with the proposed Arab state.

CULBERSON

L. Powell, Navarro county judge, with "pigpen-holing" a bill on gasoline taxes for roads and schools during the past session of the Legislature.

Culberson, who was reared in Hill county, termed the "don't care" attitude of Americans as a greater danger than Communism. He appealed for preparedness and said it was strong for the proposed American air force and was for an "informed faith in the American system of government."

The commissioner quoted figures tending to indicate that only a segment of the citizens keep abreast of current happenings and substantiated that statement with a report showing only about 33-1/2 percent of the people knew what party was in power in Congress a month after the election two years ago.

"Don't Care Ism"

Culberson blasted at the "un-speakable brood that doesn't believe in God"—that man hasn't learned his lesson yet how to get along with each other—that he was afraid—not of communists, but "it's this terribly destroy thing—don't care ism."

Disclaiming fear of the Nazis and other foreign foes, he appealed for the protection of our freedom and expressed the hope that this nation will stay so strong that we will fight the next war on and over his land (the enemy) and not ours.

"Communism can never take over in America if we care," he said, but added that there were fewer than 100,000 communists when they took over the government in Russia and there are less than 4,000,000 of them in Russia today.

Manager Makes Report
Ocie Caudle, manager, in his report of the past year, outlined existing facilities, compared itemized costs with those of surrounding co-operatives, and said that 500 miles of new lines are needed within the area served by the local agency. About 200 miles a.e. being constructed at the present time. He outlined contemplated new lines and explained the proposed new office building to be erected in Corsicana at a cost of approximately $80,000.

Powell Discusses Roads
Judge Powell, speaking in the interest of the Texas Rural Roads Association resolution, said that lobbyists of the special interests killed measures to help get roads. He said this organization was sponsored by the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association, Rural Mail Carriers organization, home demonstration clubs and similar groups.

Judge Powell spoke of the bill sponsored by the judges and commissioners at the last legislature for a cent additional tax on gasoline—1 1/2 cents to go to farm-to-market roads and the 1 1/2 cent to the schools. He charged that after the measure passed the house, it was pigeon-holed by Senator Taylor of Kereens who did not let it come before his committee for a hearing. He said the organization hoped for 100,000 members and the they be able to send lobbyists to Austin for the "common man's interests."

Without modern and necessary conveniences of life, farm life and those individuals who compose it cannot be expected to make its full and just contribution to society, said Culberson and added that private enterprise failed and refused to provide that rightful advantages.

Paying his respects to the interests who fought the Lower Colorado and other authorities, he said that they should have "done what the government had done." He said that the co-operatives, starting from scratch, had made a success.

Texas Today

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

Big Jim Griffin, candidate for state commissioner of agriculture, has carried his straw hat, shirt-sleeve campaign to every county in Texas. He has travelled 30,000 miles, made over 400 speeches. "Only hard work will beat J. E. McDonald," he says, "and I'm an old plowboy who's used to the hardest kind of work. I figure McDonald never got up against an aggressive campaigner before. I've been stamping the state since December."

Big Jim, a 210-pounder, six feet three inches tall, has a four-year college course in agriculture to back his statement that he's qualified for the post. He was farming in Mission in the Rio Grande Valley, where he "got hot at some of the policies of the state agriculture commission" and decided to leave the race.

Mostly, he concentrates his campaign on farmers—"I speak their language."

"I stop my car and run across a field to talk to a farmer on a tractor. I've climbed to the top of West Texas windmills to hold confab with ranchers. Down in East Texas, once, I crawled up a ladder to make a little speech to a couple of farmers who were putting a roof on a house."

Griffin's car is equipped with a loudspeaker. "Anywhere I can get as many as two men to stop and listen to me, I make a speech."

When Sen. Marion Sturz started his campaign at Bonham the other night, Griffin roared into town to take advantage of the throng to make his own speech. The next day he had an engagement to speak at Anahuac, down on the Gulf coast.

"I drove all night and made it," Big Jim grinned. "Once or twice I've gone two nights in a row with no sleep at all."

Griffin is a ruggedly handsome fellow, 30 years old with steady brown eyes. He grew up behind a plow, landed at Sam Houston State Teachers College with $2 in his pocket.

"I had to make up my mind whether to use the two bucks for sleeping or eating. So I broke into my first building—I raised a window on the Boy Scout Lodge at Huntsville and slept that night on a Boy Scout bedroll. Next day I got a job milking cows and cutting stovewood. From then on, I wasn't out of a job—I worked my way through Sam Houston."

He worked when he was graduated four years later. He taught school while at Sugar Land, then went to work for the U. S. department of justice immigration service. He served in the navy during the war, then went back to farming. He's married and has a son, Jim, Jr.

Contributions from farmers finance Griffin's campaign.

When he gets a few dollars ahead, he buys a little time on a local radio station.

Mostly, Griffin campaigns with a five point program he would have the state agriculture commission adopt:

What He Favors

1. An advisory commission composed of five men—from North, East, West, South and Central Texas—to aid the commissioner of agriculture to solve problems of his industry.

2. Protection of a soil conservation program.

3. Promotion of water conservation—both surface and underground water.

4. More thorough inspections against crop diseases and insects.

5. Co-operation of the state agriculture commission with other state and federal agencies to aid the farmer.

Big Jim regards water conservation as especially important. "I want to see a scientific study made of sources of water in different sections of the state. I would do this because I wouldn't want to see one section of the state asked to scrimp on water if it wouldn't help some other section."

The National Amateur Quail
